“Helping Our Neighbors”

It can be very easy to despair when we read the paper or turn on the television and are confronted with reality: political gridlock, climate change, detention centers, homelessness, racism, sexism. While bad news and tragic events are ever-present these days, we can take heart in knowing there are ways to help. But where to start?

Right here in Plano, we have a means to help support individuals and families facing various immigration issues, such as impending deportation, family separation, citizenship, and asylum claims. The Light of Hope Immigration Law Center on 19th Street has a mission: “to advocate for family reunification by compassionately serving low-income families who face immigration challenges.” Among their services, they provide free or low-cost consultations to those navigating complex immigration processes, as well as free information sessions and citizenship and DACA workshops. Families in need can request “Welcome Kits,” stocked with the necessities that many go without while coping with immigration issues.

This is where we come in! Thanks to Linda Frank and our Social Action Committee, if you visit CUUC currently, you’ll find labeled boxes ready to accept your donations of toiletry and personal items to fill welcome kits: things such as soap, shampoo, toothbrushes and toothpaste, brushes and combs, diapers and baby items, new clothing and shoes of all sizes. Monetary donations are certainly welcome, as well as office supplies to ensure they can continue to offer their services for free or reduced cost. (More details are on their website, the address in the last paragraph of this article.)

If you have the time and the will, you can also volunteer directly with Light of Hope ILC- the volunteer interest form on their website lists many opportunities. Being bilingual or multilingual is a major asset for many roles and tasks, but not a requirement! You might help with clerical needs in the office, or by promoting their services in the community. You can interact with clients through teaching or assisting with classes, or simply providing mentorship and a friendly, welcoming presence to those who may be feeling overwhelmed and alone.

need, and assisting our newest neighbors through Light of Hope ILC, a clear opportunity to make good on the promise of our principles. If you’d like to get more involved with social action at CUUC, email Linda Frank via uusinaction@communityuuchurch.org. Sunday Service - August 4 - They will be speaking about their ministry to the community using therapy animals. We might even have a few of their animals come too! Sandy Farlow is the Worship Associate and she asks that you send her a picture of your favorite therapy animal (with or without you in the picture) - to be part of the slide presentation. We all know that our furry friends bring so much to our lives. Come join in worship and hear the “Power of Paws.”

Our Share The Plate offering for August is Barron Elementary School. We will be gratefully accepting monetary donations from Church members and friends in our Share The Plate program. These donations will go towards Barron Elementary for health supplies and for the End of Year luncheon and this collection will be added to our Dedicated Fund for the school. Share The Plate Sunday this month is Sunday August 25th. Thanks in advance for all your support of this worthwhile Social Action project!

First Responders’ Day

Every year on First Responders' Day which is 9/11, CUUC along with The Dallas Sai Center delivers containers of treats to our First Responders to let them know they are appreciated. Last year we delivered to 70 plus Fire Houses, Police Stations and a 911 Call Center in the area. This year there is a change: We will be packing the containers on Saturday, Sept 7 at 10 am in Founders Hall. It takes about an hour. Drivers can choose to deliver their baskets on Saturday, Sept 7 or Sunday, Sept 8. We hope that packing and delivering on a week end, will enable more individuals and families to get involved with helping and deliveries.

How can you participate? We need lots of baked treats to put in our containers, people to help assemble the “goodie” containers and drivers to deliver them. This is our 11th year showing our support for our First Responders and it is a lot of fun!! Items to bring: Cookies, brownies, bar cookies, chips, pretzels, dried fruits, nuts, trail mixes, granola bars, fruit, candy. Homemade items are the best! Please nothing that needs refrigeration.

Thank you cards to put in the baskets are always appreciated too. A fun project for the family to sit down and create one or several thank you cards. The First Responders enjoy reading them!! Please bring all food to Founders Hall before 10am on Saturday, Sept 7. If your donations are not perishable, there will be 2 large boxes in Founders Hall starting August 17 for donations.

If you are interested in participating, please contact Barb Salvo. First ones to sign up to deliver will get the location(s) of their choosing!! This is an opportunity to take the kids to a firehouse. They might get a tour!

Mark your calendars for the Plano Balloon Festival parking fund raiser!!!

The festival is September 20 through 22, but we need the most volunteers on Saturday, September 21.

Contact Sarah Reiling to sign up for the fun!
President’s Column
Our beautiful Texas summer is flying by. Already, we are planning this year's fall schedule for Religious Education, looking toward the Balloon Festival and setting the date for the Service Auction.

In my role as President of the Board, I am so blessed to have such a wonderful group of Board members, volunteers, staff and church members that devote so much time, energy and talent to our Church and our community.

As UU’s, we all strive to exercise our Seven UU principles in our daily lives:
1st Principle: The inherent worth and dignity of every person;
2nd Principle: Justice, equity and compassion in human relations;
3rd Principle: Acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth in our congregations;
4th Principle: A free and responsible search for truth and meaning;
5th Principle: The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregations and in society at large;
6th Principle: The goal of world community with peace, liberty, and justice for all;
7th Principle: Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part.

In working through the issues, both great and small, that our Board must resolve, I am filled with gratitude to be working with a Board that is firmly dedicated to making decisions that are congruent with these principles.

I like to imagine a world where everyone lives by our principles. What if there were a critical mass of people, driven not by their own immediate self-interest, but by commitment to honoring the inherent worth and dignity of every human being? Exercising justice, equity and compassion? Imagine!

There is a popular quote frequently paraphrased as "Be the change you want to see in the world." Here’s the statement in it’s entirety:

“We but mirror the world. All the tendencies present in the outer world are to be found in the world of our body. If we could change ourselves, the tendencies in the world would also change. As a man changes his own nature, so does the attitude of the world change towards him. This is the divine mystery supreme. A wonderful thing it is and the source of our happiness. We need not wait to see what others do.”

How do you want the world to change? How can you be that change?

Blessings, Kimberly Schramm

Selection: A Map of Salt and Stars by Jennifer Zeynab Joukhadar

This rich, moving, and lyrical debut novel is to Syria what The Kite Runner was to Afghanistan; the story of two girls living eight hundred years apart—a modern-day Syrian refugee seeking safety and a medieval adventurer apprenticed to a legendary mapmaker—places today’s headlines in the sweep of history, where the pain of exile and the triumph of courage echo again and again. What’s New in the Community Garden?
Summer is in full swing at Community Harvest Garden! Be sure and take a stroll after church to see the many thriving areas of the garden, and bring some shears to take a sample of okra from our okra forest (behind the asparagus hedge on the east side). Once okra begins to flourish, it is a stellar producer and, as you know, the best pods are the young 2-3” long ones, tender and delicious. Take in our colorful sunflower wall, butterfly preserve and many native plants. Investigate the grape arbor and check for the many clusters of grapes forming there. We’ve been able to send blackberries, figs, apples, and soon pears to the God’s Food Pantry with our harvests.
We have many other visitors to our garden this year. The anoles (little green lizards) are making their home in the gardens. Since they are insectivores, we welcome them! We also have many toads assisting in our insect control. Good habitats are harder to find these days, and the garden is a pesticide free zone.
Community Harvest Garden welcomes your support and your presence. Each season allows us to marvel at the diversity and miracles of nature.

Barron Elementary School Opportunities
Barron Elementary School is right down the street east from our church at Parker and Ave. P and we have been part of its volunteer program for many years. Many of our church members and friends have taken on roles as tutors, mentors, librarians, and teacher resources working in the teacher workroom and we are again looking for more people to step up and be willing to join with us in this vital Social Action project. One person can also volunteer for a special event like the 5th graders camping trip, field trip, or the Fall Festival. You will need to fill out a volunteer sign-up form if this will be your first involvement and these forms will be available in the church foyer or ask Anne Smith, our Barron Coordinator (smithannenmh@gmail.com). Folks must go online to register as a volunteer at: https://oea.pisd.edu/volunteer/EntryPointHomeAction.do
Another way to help out at Barron is to donate supplies in August and September including plastic zip-lock bags of varying sizes, health supplies such as tissues, hand wipes, and hand sanitizer (alcohol-based only) for use in their classrooms. We will have a box to collect these supplies which will be in Founders Hall. Our donations help out as then teachers do not have to spend their own salary on these items. We also have a Dedicated Fund to use for purchasing these items and/ or to help defray costs of our End of Year Teacher Appreciation Luncheon that we host for the staff and teachers at Barron. We also are accepting box tops that can be placed in an envelope on the bulletin board in the Social Action alcove across from the drinking

Star Party is coming - Labor Day weekend 2019
Why do we love astronomy? “Astronomy is the ancient challenge we brought forward from the cave days when mankind first bowed to the moon goddess. WE have lengthened our eyesight considerably since then with telescopes and curiosity. Superstitions and fears gave way to purpose and hope to encounter other worlds also capable of contact or at least working towards it. We look for answer outside of ourselves and appear civilized enough to answer the questions of others.” (from Yahoo answers).

Why do you love astronomy? We will have speakers, food, lots of viewing of the night sky and more. Camp is August 30 - September 2. For more detailed information about the event and to register, see https://ubaru.org/home/starParty.
Religious education is what we do as a faith community.

As Unitarian Universalists we claim the search for truth and meaning to be one of our core faith principles. Thus, all learners are on this journey together.

Our UU ways of teaching faith do not follow a transmission model that is based on telling and remembering. We do not just educate about our religious heritage. Rather the process of learning is a process of creation of our theology, and our development of faith. So in this way we are a living faith.

In August we begin our 2019-2020 year with various opportunities for children to learn, from K-3 Spirit Play class to middle and high school youth program. Teaching children and youth means to engage them in pondering the spiritual, seeking justice, searching for what is true, learning about what is ethical and creating our UU faith. Our teachers are at the forefront of carrying out our common mission. Supporting our teachers means supporting the children who are learning with them.

We educate all ages about ethical values and what is important to us and we do this in explicit as well as implicit ways. Not all learning takes place in the RE classroom. Critical theorist Jurgen Habermas who focused much of his work on adult learning states that humans are wired to learn. As human beings we are incapable of not learning. This means, we learn what is presented to us - whether those are perspectives about the universe, the place of mystery or God in it, the meaning of human existence, or about ways we treat each other and our patterns of behavior. Some of these learned patterns and perspectives take away the voice of others or rob ourselves of benefiting from the diversity among us. The more we learn about the social justice and institutionalized ways of dehumanizing people, the more we become aware of the need to change, beginning with ourselves. When we realize that some things are broken in our community, we want to make them whole again even though we may not always know how. The good news is that we are incapable of not learning. This means we have the opportunity to learn new ways that work well with our values, our ethics and our commitments. We are part of a living faith and religious education is what we do. To celebrate this gift of learning we will gather for backpack blessing and pancake breakfast on August 18. Come join us!

Fundraising Guidelines for Religious Education

At the core of the Community UU Church’s mission is religious education. As part of this mission, the congregational budget funds the core RE program. However, extracurricular activities, such as Boston Heritage trip, service trip and rallies, are not part of the core RE program and thus are not funded by the congregation’s budget. The funds for these activities are raised through fundraisers. There are two designated funds for youth fundraising. One is for the COA Boston trip and another is for high school youth extracurricular activities, such as service trip and rallies. The fundraising cycle is set for two years to help raise funds for the Coming of Age Boston heritage trip.

Here are the guidelines for all these fundraisers:

- all fundraisers are to be conducted according to CUUC policies and procedures which require that the RE related fundraiser bringing in more than $250 are approved by Finance Committee 30 days prior to the event
- the fundraiser goal toward which the funds will be raised needs to be specific, i.e Boston Heritage trip or service trip, etc.
- if the fundraiser is a joint effort and the organizers desire to split the raised funds 50/50, the plan needs to be included in the proposal and approved by Finance Committee.
- the raised funds are to be used for the designated purpose. If an individual who participated in raising the funds is unable to participate in the activity, they are not eligible to request funds for personal use. If there are insufficient funds to allow to carry out the intended activity, the funds can be used to fund a different RE extracurricular activity with approval from DRE and RE board chair. Rev. Dr. Aija Duelm, Consulting DRE

Each month we email all the people who signed up for CIRCLE SUPPERS to see who would like to attend this month and to see who might be available to host. The guests meet at the host’s home. The host provides the main dish and each guest brings an additional dish or drinks. If you are new to our church this is a great way to meet some new folks. It is OK to sign up even if your situation doesn't allow you to be a host. Out next dinner will be September 14. To sign up just send an email to Circlesuppers@communityUUchurch.org and give your name (or names) and email and a phone number.

The June financial summary for our operating accounts is listed below. The cumulative Net Income gap is $17.7K above budget. We have had a couple of people prepay their 19/20 pledge before the end of the 18/19 fiscal year. This has created a one-time, unsustainable excess in current year pledging, since almost all of them were transferred to income as of the beginning of the fiscal year. Further, the summer is usually very quiet, and this month is no different.

Looking ahead: I am looking forward to walking this road with you this year. According to the fantastic people on the stewardship team, we have managed to hit our pledging target. It is going to be another interesting year, as we are looking for a new minister, membership coordinator, and the CDRE is going to a pre-arranged internship. But with your help we are in a very healthy financial situation, and if everyone does their best to stick to their pledges, or let's us know as soon as possible if there is a problem, we will be able to have another great year.
